The DeForest Handy Helper's January meeting was held at the Windsor town hall. The meeting was called to order by President Jacquie Gray at 7:05. Roll call was taken and January birthdays were recognized and given their candy, card, and sung to. Clover buds did an activity in the back during the meeting.

The fifty baskets for our community service project, baskets of love, are finished. We are still looking for donations to put in the baskets though. The blood drive was January 17th. Pam Cooper talked about cookies and where and when they should be dropped off. They were to be dropped off either at Cooper's house or at the Comfort Inn and Suits. Jacquie talked about youth leadership day and about kids learning par-law. Mrs. Hageman talked about project literature and shared that we are looking for older members to help with clover bud projects and if you were interested you should see her after the meeting. Claire talked about Art discovery day which is February 9th, and asked for help with baskets. Ben Nagel showed his National 4-H shoot power point. Mike Nagel talked about shooting sports, youth adult leagues are signing up now so if you were interested you should call Ruth Dibs, for a training course. He also reminded us that the Washington County shoot is April 5th. Mrs. Cimaroli shared rabbit information and told us she is a rabbit leader so if you are in the rabbit project and have any questions you can talk to her. Ben Nagel moved to adjourn the meeting and Jared Meixner 2nd. Meeting adjourned at 7:50.
